1. Grant and proof of licence

Silasbeats Pty Ltd grants the purchaser identified by the completed Wix order a worldwide, perpetual, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to use this beat to create and commercially release one new song. The licence is subject to the conditions and limits in this document. It applies to this beat and tier only. Keep the matching order confirmation as evidence of the licence; possession of this PDF or a preview alone does not grant rights. The order must be completed and any amount due settled, including an authorised order discounted to zero.

2. Ownership, publishing and credit

Silasbeats Pty Ltd retains the original instrumental recording and 50% ownership of the underlying composition. Your original lyrics and vocal recordings remain yours. File delivery does not transfer copyright or exclusivity. Writer and publisher registrations must reflect the agreed composition split. Before release, confirm all collaborators' shares total 100%, and obtain the agreed legal names, society affiliations and IPI/CAE details in a split sheet. Do not register the original instrumental as solely yours. Credit "Prod. by Silasbeats" wherever the platform supports credits. Publishing ownership is separate from master-recording income; this document introduces no additional master royalty percentage.

Use, limits and delivery

3. Streaming limits and upgrades

The licensed song may accumulate up to 100,000 audio streams across audio streaming platforms, counting monetised and non-monetised plays together. Changing distributor does not reset the count. Video views, ordinary broadcasts and live performances are separate from this audio allowance. Contact Silasbeats before reaching the limit to arrange a written extension or upgrade; further streams are not automatically authorised. Upgrades for the same beat use a credit toward the higher tier, with any discount adjustment shown in the quote. The higher allowance replaces the previous cap; existing usage still counts.

4. Releases, video, promotion and performance

Normal music distribution and monetisation are permitted within these limits. One official music video is permitted, with no separate video-view cap. Ordinary promotion of the licensed song has no spending cap. Radio, television and online broadcast of the song or permitted music video, and paid or unpaid live performances, are permitted without station-count or performance-count limits. Applicable platform, broadcaster and venue public-performance licences remain their responsibility.

5. Social uses and separate permissions

Clips promoting the licensed song and ordinary vlog or background-music uses on TikTok, Instagram and YouTube are permitted, including monetised content. Advertising use of the music itself, branded or sponsored content, client campaigns, film or television-programme sync, games, third-party sampling and sublicensing require separate written permission. The ordinary social background-use permission does not permit standalone beat redistribution or stock-library placement.

6. Restrictions and existing licences

Do not resell, transfer or distribute the standalone beat or stems, submit them to stock libraries, or claim exclusive ownership. Do not enrol the beat or resulting song in Content ID or another automated exclusive fingerprinting system without written permission. Clear any material you add. Existing valid non-exclusive licences continue on their original terms if exclusive rights are sold later.

7. Delivery, records and support

Your selected file formats and this licence are supplied together in the secure download ZIP. Keep a backup of the files, this document and your order confirmation. Report missing, incorrect, corrupt or inaccessible files to info@silasbeats.com with your order reference so the delivery can be corrected. Mandatory statutory consumer rights remain unaffected. A later change to the website does not retrospectively replace the terms issued with this order.
